BALLOONISTS SAFE; RECORDS SMASHED

America II's flight was 1,335 miles in an airship from St. Louis. Later advice received at St. Louis from Lewis Spindler, of the St. Louis Aero Club, who was in charge of the search for Hawley and Post in Ontario, gave the America II's landing place as "about 120 miles north-east of Concoche, Quebec."

Mr. Spindler's dispatch says that Concoche, which is the point at which the Germania landed last Wednesday, is 1,185 miles from St. Louis in an airship, and that Hawley's and Post's distance is figured by him as 1,365 miles from the starting point. It does not matter whether it is 1,365 or 1,335, as either distance is the world's record, which before this had been set 1,182 miles by Count Henry de la Vaulx, in a flight from Vincennes, France, to Korostev, Russia, in 1900.

Lends All Contestants.

While the official announcements will not be made for some time, the figuring of the aero club people and the contestants themselves places the leading balloons in the following order:

America II, Dusseldorf II, Germania.

When Mr. Perkins, who, in spite of sailing with the Dusseldorf II, is a Bostonian, was convinced that Hawley and Post had the record, he took another look at the spot on the map which showed the path which must have been followed by the America II's crew and said: "Well, they're a blame plucky pair, and anyway I'm glad the United States wins."

The telegram sent from St. Ambrose by Hawley and Post shows that they came to earth on the same day that the Dusseldorf landed and that the difficulties of travel were so great that it took them a whole week to get back to the end of a telegraph wire. St. Ambrose is not big enough to get on the map, but it is about forty miles north of Chibouctou, where the Saguenay River steamers make their stop northward bound. How many of those seven days were spent in an unaided struggle with the wilderness cannot be known until Mr. Hawley and his companion send further details. The country in which they landed is a network of lakes and rivers, dense forests and impassable marches.

Perkins and his companion took four days and nights in traveling seventeen miles through similar country, and they lost most of their clothing in the fight with the brush.

"We believe that Hawley and Post have established a world's record," said Mr. Stratton tonight. "From what we know now, they covered about 1,400 miles, one of the most remarkable feats in the aviation history of the world. From what little we have so far learned Hawley and Post were without food for the most of the time during their seven days' flight through the woods to civilization, and were assisted by hunters and others."

"From what I can learn the men have their balloon with them. I leave at 5 in the morning for Quebec and expect to arrive there tomorrow night. Post and Hawley are driving from St. Ambrose to Chibouctou, Quebec, and should reach there about 11 or 12 tonight, and I believe will reach Quebec tomorrow night, where I shall join them."

TRIP A DELIGHTFUL ONE

DECLARE THE AERONAUTS

Chibouctou, Quebec, Oct. 25.—"We had a beautiful trip," said Mr. Post tonight. "We crossed Lake Michigan and Lake Huron and followed what I should judge to be the route of the proposed Georgian Bay Canal."

"Then we crossed the Ottawa and floated over the forests of Northern Quebec; passing over innumerable lakes and rivers. The country below us always was densely wooded. Finally on Wednesday morning we found that we were north of Lake St. John and going well, and we had hopes that we would be able to continue the trip until we struck the Labrador coast."

"Unfortunately, about 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the 19th, a storm came up, and it became necessary to make a landing. We picked out a mountain and landed on it and made an easy landing on the mountain side at an elevation of about 1,500 feet."

"This was near nightfall, and we knew that in the morning we would be able to pass the night in the basket of the balloon."

"The next morning we started for civilization, heading south. We had three days of strenuous work, with no time to eat that was absolutely necessary, as we had to carry all our food as well as the blankets to cover us at night. And we had no snow shoes on the way."

"On the fourth day we found the camp of Jack Matthias, a trapper. Unfortunately, he was away from home. We, however, stayed there and enjoyed the hospitality of his but for a day of much needed rest. Then four French Canadian trappers turned up, and like good fellows, brought us out by canoe to St. Ambrose, where we arrived this afternoon."

"As far as we can figure our landing place was about fifty-eight miles north of Chibouctou. There is rather a large lake near where we landed, Lake Piscocoma, and we landed between five and eight miles north. Two smaller lakes, also, were passed by us as we made our way through the woods."

"The country there is very rough, and our travel was necessarily slow and arduous in the extreme."

"The bush was very dense and we had a hard time fighting our way through, but didn't suffer any very severe hardships."

Beats Former Marks.
St. Louis, Oct. 26.—Hawley and Post's landing place, according to the telegram received here from Spindler tonight, is about 120 miles northeast of Concoche, Quebec, 1,185 miles air line from St. Louis, where the Germania landed. This makes 1,365 miles air line distance covered by Hawley and Post in the balloon America II in the international race, breaking the world's record of 1,182 miles, by Count de la Vaulx.

BERTH FOR W. H. LEWIS.

Colored Republican Stated for High Federal Office.

A Republican politician who is much interested in the Ohio campaign, and who is close to President Taft, announced yesterday that the administration was on the point of giving recognition to the colored Republicans by the appointment of William H. Lewis, now assistant United States attorney at Boston, to be one of the assistant attorneys general in the Department of Justice.

This was given partial confirmation later in the day at the White House, but Attorney General Wickersham expressed surprise when the matter was mentioned to him.

Lewis has been assistant United States attorney at Boston several years and has made a good record. He is a graduate of Amherst and Harvard.

He made a record in athletics at Amherst as captain of the football team, and at Harvard as center rush.

It was stated that President Taft has also decided to appoint Charles A. Cottrell, a well-known negro, of Toledo, as collector of customs at Honolulu.

PARKER IN THROG, HEARS ROOSEVELT

The judge surveyed him from afar, "in those days you appealed to all good citizens to stand together, and so now I have the right to appeal to all good citizens to stand together in this contest. We have as our candidate"—but the noise interrupted him. "I can't talk against two footed engines," he shouted. "Against one?" asked a man in the crowd.

"One I can get on fairly well with," was the retort.

"We ask your support of Stimson," continued the colonel, "because he is opposed rightly by Tammany Hall and by the big trusts and by every crooked business man."

"Say, colonel!" piped a suspicious-looking individual. "Judge Parker can't hear you." The colonel glared.

"Every crooked business man," he went on, "and every crooked politician I expect to oppose our candidate. I am glad to see you, comrade."

Comrade. "I hear with pleasure and believe in every word you say." The colonel: "I am glad you do."

Could Not Fool Colonel.
While his repartee was going on Judge Parker held his place. He couldn't be persuaded to greet the colonel, and he went away without even speaking. He remarked as he left that everything was fine where he had been, meaning, of course, that the Democrats were blossoming out in good shape. Mr. Roosevelt knew that the judge was there all the time.

Mr. Roosevelt made eight speeches today. He began at Phoenix in the morning and ended up with two addresses here tonight. The crowds yelled every where, and it was pretty easy sledding for him. There was a good bit of enthusiasm along the line more than one has noticed previously. But, then, it was in red-hot Republican country. And also everybody felt good, because it was cold and made you feel like working your lungs.

The colonel took up as his leading point of attack on Mr. Dix the speech that the Democratic candidate made last night at Buffalo. He deplored the fact that Dix had attacked an admission because what Stimson had done in connection with the sugar trust.

A Willing Instrument.

"Mr. Dix has shown conclusively that he is the willing instrument of Mr. Murphy in this campaign, and therefore the instrument of the great and sinister forces, political and financial, that stand behind Murphy in the effort to secure control of the government at Albany," he said, "and Mr. Dix's utter insincerity is shown in his attacks on Mr. Stimson as he in his attempts to explain away his own record. Every great corrupt corporation which desires to see Harry Stimson discredited would doubtless applaud for Mr. Dix for his attempts to discredit him. It was not that these attempts are so transparently futile to the trust or in its connection with the trust."

Most of the other topics that the colonel has been expounding were taken up in the course of the day. He roasted James Gordon Bennett, talked the New Nationalism, the Supreme Court, and discussed all the issues of the campaign up to date. He announced that the Republican party in the State had broken away from big business, which might be construed as an admission because of his attempts to explain away his own record. Every great corrupt corporation which desires to see Harry Stimson discredited would doubtless applaud for Mr. Dix for his attempts to discredit him. It was not that these attempts are so transparently futile to the trust or in its connection with the trust."

Phoenix and Fulton were favored with rear platform speeches just like Richmond.

Receives Loud Welcome.
The first big meeting was in Oswego, where 1,500 grown-ups and a lot of whistling kids jammed into the Opera House. In the afternoon, before he left for Ogdensburg, the colonel received a loud welcome from Watertown.

The streets were thronged with enthusiastic folks, who persisted in following the first auto, which, naturally, contained Mr. Roosevelt and a member of the staff.

The Watertown army held more persons that were comfortably seated. The colonel mounted a chair and spoke for about an hour, and then he decided to pass the night in the basket of the balloon.

"The next morning we started for civilization, heading south. We had three days of strenuous work, with no time to eat that was absolutely necessary, as we had to carry all our food as well as the blankets to cover us at night. And we had no snow shoes on the way."

"On the fourth day we found the camp of Jack Matthias, a trapper. Unfortunately, he was away from home. We, however, stayed there and enjoyed the hospitality of his but for a day of much needed rest. ## NOT INFLUENCED BY JOHN D. COUSIN OF OIL MAGNATE IS Closer to the People.

Topeka, Kans., Oct. 25.—Frank Rockefeller, who is a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth district, has been attacked because of his relationship with John D. Rockefeller. Mr. Rockefeller, the Kansan, is a first cousin of the oil magnate.

"Some of the Republican papers in my district," said Mr. Rockefeller, "fear that my relationship to John D. may warp my views as a Congressman. They forget that my legislative record proves that my campaign promises are good. I do not think John D. knows that I am running, and am sure he doesn't care. When he wants Congress to do anything he has generally got what he wanted without electing any of his family to office to help him."

"I might add that John D. has generally worked with the Republicans anyway. His life training and his business have given him a different view of things from what a fellow like me gets after farming and raising stock in Western Kansas for thirty-three years."

"If he raised as many red hogs, white-faced cattle, and as much corn and alfalfa as I do he would be a whole lot nearer to the people and would have so much better understanding of them that he would be in a much more enviable position than he now is."

MAY SUE FOR LIBEL.
Judge Baldwin Wants Col. Roosevelt to Make Retraction.

New Haven, Oct. 26.—That Judge Simon E. Baldwin, Democratic nominee for governor, is seriously thinking of suing former President Theodore Roosevelt for slander, was given out today at State Democratic headquarters in this city.

Constance C. W. Connors, of the Democratic State central committee first gave the tip on the judge's intention and then Judge Baldwin practically verified the story.

The colonel has called the judge reticent, as shown in his decision, and the judge has called upon the former President to retract. Roosevelt has written a letter to the press in which he said that he had no intention of making any statement.

"It has been hinted that you might sue Mr. Roosevelt for slander," said the reporter.

"If he makes the retraction I have asked for, I will not institute any suit. Whether I shall sue in any case is a question, as already stated, about which I do not care at present to make any statement."

CONFIDENCE MEN FLEECE STRANGER
Trio Take Money and Ring from Visitor.

John Marshall, a young merchant of Williamstown, Gloucester county, N. J., a visitor in Washington, started to the navy yard yesterday afternoon to witness the "aeroplane flights," but got tangled up with three confidence men and lost a diamond ring valued at $30 and $50 in cash.

Marshall went out to see the sights of the town yesterday, and at the Capitol was joined by two strangers.

"Have you been to the navy yard to see the aeroplanes fly?" Marshall was asked.

"I did not know there were any going on," he replied.

"Sure," said one of the confidence men. "They're the cutest little flights you ever saw."

The trio started for the navy yard, but while they were walking in Pennsylvania avenue southeast one of the confidence men stopped Marshall to relieve him of the extraordinary amount of the afternoon. Marshall acquiesced and won enough pennies to fill a chewing gum machine. Then they matched for dollars and Marshall lost $5.

The offering of Marshall's diamond ring as stakes in the matching game started a three-handed argument. When words were flying fast and thick, the third confidence man appeared.

"I'm Serg. Kaufman in citizen's clothes," said the third confidence man, "what's the trouble here?"

"This man is trying to rob us," shouted the other two confidence men, in charges pointing to Marshall. "Serg. Kaufman" grabbed Marshall and the two men with the $5 and the diamond ring disappeared.

PAPER IN NEW CONTROL.
Change in Ownership of Boston Herald to Be Made Soon.

Boston, Oct. 26.—A change in the ownership of the Boston Herald will be effected in the next few days. The new owners, who are prominent in Boston financial circles, will pay $200,000 into the Herald, which will be represented by first-class mortgage bond issue of the reorganized company, to be known as the Boston Herald, Inc.

The capitalization will be $2,500,000. The committee which has been negotiating this deal is made up as follows:

Robert M. Burnett, chairman; Thomas H. Lee, 2d; Friedman; John L. Hall, and Frederick S. Whiting. Mr. Burnett as a financier stands close to the Boston Elevated and the New Haven roads; Mr. Baxter represents the Plant and the Boston Elevated; Mr. Lee represents the old Andrews estate in the Herald property; Mr. Hall is in the law firm of Choate, Hall & Stewart, prominent in the affairs of the bondholders, and Mr. Whiting was formerly business manager of the Herald.

Robert L. O'Brien, late of the Transcript, will become editor of the paper, and Mr. Whiting will be the business manager.
